Camino Student Wins National Supply Management Club Award

Walter Bendall, auto mechanics student at El Camino College, was named one of 13 winners in the annual essay contest sponsored by the National Supply Management Club of the National Supply Company in Torrance.

Bendall, who lives at 1827 12th avenue, Los Angeles, was

To Graduate 287 Tomorrow

Graduation exercises for the largest graduating class in the history of El Camino College will be held in the track stadium of the college tomorrow at 4 p.m. A record 287 students will receive Associate of Arts degrees.

President of Occidental College, Dr. Arthur Gardner Coombs, will deliver a talk on "Human Dignity and Democratic Life" to the graduates. Forrest G. Murdock, president of El Camino, will present the graduating class to Robert Russell, president of the board of trustees, who will present diplomas.

RECREATION, SUMMER TEAC PLAN DISCUSSED

A discussion of the summer recreation program and a summer program for the Torrance Educational Advisory Committee were held during the last meeting of the group on June 8 at the Torrance High School cafeteria.

Discussing the recreation program as planned for Torrance, was Frank Carpenter, recently appointed recreation director for the city. Carpenter welcomed comments made by parents about the schedule, remarking that only in this way can he know how the recreation program can best serve the community.

Mrs. Grace Wright, moderator for the group, asked for a frank expression of opinion from representatives present on topics to be aired at future meetings. Judge John Shidler said he received a copy of the minutes of TEAC meetings which he read carefully since he felt that only in so doing could he, as a member of the Board of Education, know how the people felt about certain educational matters.

He made a plea that representatives bring controversial educational problems to TEAC and present them for consideration by the group.

Shidler suggested that complete minutes of these meetings be made even to recording exact statements, rather than a summing up of the discussion by the secretary in her own words. He said that he had noticed in his reading of the minutes more and more emphasis was being placed upon participation by school personnel, and a decline in participation by the lay group.

In answer to this Dr. J. Heinrich Hull, superintendent of schools, pointed out that on a questionnaire filled out by committee members about a year ago, the question, "Do you think school personnel take too great a part in TEAC programs?" was answered in the negative. In fact many persons expressed the opinion that they awarded $100 and a certificate of honor. Subject of Bendall's essay, written in competition with high school and junior college students throughout Southern California was "Will further education increase my opportunity in industry?"

Presentation of the prize was made at the college's new auto shop Thursday, by Beverly D. Smith, president of the National Supply Management Club; Phillip W. Dedrick, scholarship chairman and Robert L. McKenna, director of the National Association of Foremen. Congratulations were extended to Bendall by Melvin R. Allen, secretary of the College Board of trustees of the college board of trustees; College President Forrest G. Murdock; Director of Instruction Dr. Lyle Tussing and auto shop instructor, Charles B. Toynebe. This is the third year that an El Camino student has won in the essay competition. Last year a similar $100 prize was won by William D. Deford of Lawndale.

came to the meetings to hear from school people what the authorities were planning and what their objectives were.

The questions, "How can we reach more people?" and "Do those who come to the meetings report back to their groups?" were asked. The suggestion was made that any organizations wishing to send representatives contact the Board of Education office and find out when and where the meetings are to be held. Another suggestion was made that each member be asked to bring a guest to each meeting. This would give both continuity and variety to the committee, it was said.

It was decided that in the future double cards will be mailed out announcing the meetings with the understanding that the return card will be returned with reservations for members and their guests on it.

One member expressed the opinion that newspapers might be able to give better coverage of the meetings if the meetings were changed to a time which would be ahead of the newspapers' deadline.

As a result summer meetings of the group will be held on Monday instead of Wednesday.

Dr. Hull asked that the school publication, "The Open Door," be analyzed by the group and suggestions be made for its revision. This will be undertaken at the July meeting.

The next meeting of the Torrance Educational Advisory Committee will be held on Monday July 10 at 12:05. The meeting place to be announced later.
